

Business morning “Doing business in Estonia”

Estonia can offer progressive business environment with an efficient and compatible infrastructure. In Estonia, foreign investors are treated the same as domestic ones, and in certain business cases it is worth considering business relocation to our neighboring country. These and other aspects when doing business in Estonia will be talked through on 7th of April, 8:00 at our office – Blaumana Street 22, Rīga.

In this business morning there will be 3 speakers – a guest speaker from our Estonian office - Kristjan Järve, one of our partners - Jelena Žovnikova, and our tax and legal advisor – Kristaps Cimmermanis.

Topics to be discussed:

1. Key characteristics - taxation and commercial and labour law aspects
2. Special features (Estonia/e-residents, postponed taxation etc.)
3. Current trends in legislation in both countries

Program:

8:00 - 8:45 - Doing business in Estonia

8:45 – 9:00 – Questions and networking

The language of the presentations: English

Our speakers:

Jelena Žovnikova

Jelena was the managing partner of Grant Thornton Baltic (Latvia) in 2010-2015. Currently she is responsible for outsourcing and internal finance. Her expertise covers areas such as financial advisory, accounting, IFRS and other. She is from Estonia herself and is well informed about business environment in both countries.

Kristjan Järve

Kristjan is the head of the tax advisory department at Grant Thornton Baltic (Estonia), and has worked for the company since 1999. His role is to understand the tax risks and untapped opportunities that lie in clients' business activity.

Kristaps Cimmermanis

Kristaps is a manager at the tax and legal advisory department at Grant Thornton Baltic (Latvia). He has practical experience in entrepreneurship and deeper understanding of tax related business issues.